FRISCO ENGINES CAN BE LEASED

Water Board Makes Public Letter From Railway Company

Subject to an amicable settlement of the railroad strike and barring further railroad tie-ups, the Frisco railroad will furnish from one to four locomotives for the Spavinaw water project for a rental of $5 each per day. Flat cars up to 20 will be supplied for a rental of 50 cents each per day.

This information is contained in a letter received by the water commission Friday from E. C. Cartel, general agent for the Frisco, in response to a letter from the commission asking for a definite proposal concerning the use of Frisco equipment.

The city will not rent or lease this equipment, but the information was obtained by the water commission for the use of the bidders on the Spavinaw project, who will use it in making their bids. Rudd stated Friday the water commission concluded bidding will be facilitated by supplying bidders with all information possible without the delay necessary if each one were forced to obtain the same data by communicating with Frisco officials.

The Frisco agrees to rent 20 miles or more of 60-pound steel rail with a valuation basis of $25 a ton at a rental equivalent to six per cent per annum. Furthermore, it will permit anyone to purchase the track after installation at the prevailing market price of materials used in its construction.

No frogs, switch points or switch stands are available from the Frisco's shops and it will be necessary for the city or the contractor to purchase these from manufacturers.

A rate of one cent a mile will be charged between Tulsa and Verdigris for those employed on the water project, or 20 cents a trip. Coaches will be attached to the Tulsa-Verdigris switcher to accommodate workmen in the morning and again in the evening, so they may if they wish spend each night with the families in Tulsa.

The freight rate on crushed rock from Garnett to Verdigris will be 2 cents a hundred pounds, the same rate to prevail for sand from Gray, Ide or West Tulsa to Verdigris.

ADVERTISE FOR BIDS ON PAVING

Six Projects in as Many Districts Over City Are Included

City Auditor Roy Garbett was instructed by the mayor and commissioners Friday to advertise for bids on six paving projects in as many districts over the city. Registered letters containing notices of hearings and assessments already have been sent to property owners, Garbett reported.

No paving contracts have been let during the present city administration, and, if let, these six will be the first. The six districts are described as follows:

No. 185—Ulrich avenue from the north line of Nineteenth to the north line of Twenty-first; East Nineteenth from the west line of St. Louis to the west line of Ulster.

No. 356—North Boston from the north line of Latimer to the south line of Marshall.

No. 357—Ulrich avenue from the south line of Fourth to the north line of the Katy railroad right-of-way.

No. 358—Eleventh from the south line of Olympia to the south line of Phoenix.

No. 359—Haskell from the east line of Boston to the east line of Cincinnati; Cincinnati from the south line Haskell to the north line of Fairview; Fairview from the east line of Cincinnati to the east line of Boston.

No. 360—Lawton from the south line of Eleventh to the north line of Riverside; Jackson from the south line of Eleventh to a point 150 feet south of the south line of Thirtieth.

The city engineer's recommendation that the city advertise for bids was accompanied by estimates on the six projects.

PACHYDERM IN REVOLT CURED

Mahout Talks to Her in Hindustani and Subdues Wild Rampage

LONDON.—A big female Indian elephant that went on strike at the zoo last spring and refused to do what all big elephants are required to do—earn money by carrying children around on her back—has been cured of the sulks and laziness by the seeming magic treatment of an Indian mahout.

She was presented to the zoo by the maharajah of Cochin Behar two years ago. She had been well trained and acted at all times like a sensible, well-behaved elephant and obeyed orders properly. She developed no vices beyond that of picking pockets for edible dainties. But every elephant that has any sense at all learns to do that in the zoo.

Then she took it into her big head that she would not submit to being teased any longer. She declined to stand between the new riding steps that had been fixed up for the convenience of juvenile elephant riders. When the old wooden steps were substituted for the new ones she proved equally obstinate. In the end she declined to leave the elephant yard at all.

As the elephant is a fine animal, and quite good tempered, it was decided to obtain a mahout from India. He was cabled for, and arrived in due course. He was taken to the

Employment Is Sought By Students Working Their Way in School

Tulsa high school and the University of Tulsa will have more female students than it would otherwise if a number of girls and young women succeed in finding outside employment upon which their school careers for the coming year hinge. A number of high school and college-age girls have already appealed to the employment department of the Y. W. C. A. for aid in locating outside school hours employment and the Y. W. C. A. is passing this appeal on to the Tulsa public.

A variety of odd pieces or work can be done by the girls, Miss Aile Watkins, employment and room registry secretary, said. In the office they can do typewriting, office work or switchboard operation; in the home, tutoring, taking care of children during the parents' absence, serving dinner parties. Most of the girls will try to arrange their school classes so as to be free early in the afternoon and they will have all day Saturday free for employment. Miss Watkins requests business men and housewives having openings for girls who must make their own way through school, to telephone her.

elephant house. He at once entered the enclosure and formally saluted the animal, standing first at her head and then at her tail. Next he took off his shoes and knotted a rope loosely about the elephant's neck, which he afterward used as a kind of stirrup.

Gains Animal's Confidence.

With little difficulty he persuaded her to kneel and hounded her neck. In less than two minutes, soothing, patting and talking volubly to her in Hindustani, he had got on good terms with the animal. Then he took her around to the elephant ride and apparently had her in complete control.

Phrases of his admonitions, freely translated, were as follows: "I am told that you eat your food, and will not work; it is wrong; Allah enjoins on us all that we must work if we would eat. You are cheating your masters, and it is unworthy of you. I am only a black man, and you must not mind me. Put fear out of your mind; take it up from your heart, and throw it out."

The elephant certainly seemed to understand, and now obeys every order. The mahout was given quarters in another part of the garden, but he obtained leave to sleep in the elephant house, as he says, "that he wishes to talk to the elephant during the night. He has not yet tried to saddle her, as he wants to take things slowly, but he is confident he will conquer all her fears and make her permanently obedient."

13 May Be Unlucky for Some Folks but 12 Is Fatal for This Negro

"Yassah, Judge, 13 may be unlucky for some folks but 12 is suah mah fatal figure. Oh, jest can't help cause it's 'at way."

That was Lige Miller's explanation yesterday to County Judge Z. I. J. Holt, when Miller, a negro, was arraigned on a charge of owning some "choc" (chocolate) or consumption of which is against the law, as the judge explained. Miller as charged was having some of the homemade flowwater in his possession on March 12 of this year. His arrest was just recently made.

The negro was arrested last year on the same charge and March 12 was the date of that alleged offense. The old case has already been disposed of. Yesterday the negro entered a plea of not guilty and was remanded to jail pending his trial within the next month.

"Judge Ah sint guilty ob die. Ah don't make no 'choc.' This heah Ma'ch 12 suah is my off day. Twice I get ketch for the same thing on that day. What Ah wants to know is who said 13 was unlucky."

As Judge Holt ordered the black to jail in default of bond he remarked that Miller seemed to have a periodical attack of "liquoritis."

'NOT GUILTY' SAY TURLEY MEMBERS

Britton and Criner Admitted to Bonds of $5,000 Each

Two of the four men charged with embezzling $45,000 of the Turkey school district money by means of a fraudulent funding bond issue, yesterday appeared before Justice J. T. Thompson, entered pleas of not guilty and were released on $5,000 bond each, pending their preliminary trial which was set for September 7. They were W. L. Britton and W. N. Criner. The other two, A. W. Smith and W. E. Cook, have not yet been arrested. Britton, Smith and Cook are members of the old Turkey school board. Criner is a local contractor who built the consolidated school building at Turkey.

The information against the men, which followed the completion of an audit of the records, charges that after Criner had received his pay for the building, he through a previously formed conspiracy filed suit in district court against the board claiming that $45,000 was due him for the work. The three members of the board waived defense and confessed judgment. This allowed the issuance of a funding bond for the amount and it is charged that the board members appropriated the money to their own use.

Members of the new board, which ordered the investigation, audit and resultant criminal action are J. A. Turley, Sam Kising and C. A. Roach.

Childish mischief is untutored 'open' with which time and education will move mountains.

It has been said that this store couldn't continue to give the values it began with. We are not giving the same bargains—we are giving better ones. The reason is, we are selling more goods and can afford to sell 'em cheaper.

The people who said that this store would be on the rocks by this time, will have to wait at least until I retire and even then their chance to see that come true is pretty slim for by then A. L. Franks, Jr., will be old enough to take charge. A. L., Jr., is only one year old now and has $2.05 on time deposit in the First National bank at this writing and wants to put his capital in this business now, but there is no stock for sale, so he will have to wait a few years.

Come on down here and get yours. We sell 'em before they get old. Our offer to marry any couple so inclined free of charge and to start them off with a bunch of groceries still holds good as previously advertised.
